

Virtual Arts & Crafts Fair

On the 1st of October craft association Amata opened its own Virtual Craft Fair, so that the public can find original craft work at any time, wherever they live.

Over the last twenty years Amata has been organising craft fairs all over Spain. But most of these markets are only held once a year in different villages and only during one weekend. Their Virtual Craft Fair was created so that you can find the artisans right in the moment when you need them: when you are looking for an original birthday present for a friend, something for a wedding present or when you need a special bracelet or earrings for a party. No matter where you live, you can find their craftwork while staying at home! Just one click on the website www.puebloartesano.es/Feria-virtual1 and you are right in the fair!

There, you will find original craft work, everything hand made by the artisans themselves, with paper maché, leather and glass; there is jewellery and soap, wooden toys and puppets, woven shawls and decorated roman roof tiles, even oil paintings. Every stall offers something different and in every stall you will find the contact details of the artisan, so you can order something special and watch their website or social media, and each one shows you a video with more products or demonstrating his or her craft.

This fair is part of the recently created Virtual Craft Village, www.puebloartesano.es, where all inhabitants are real artisans who open the doors of their workshops, so you can watch them at work. Most of them also have a shop in the village, give classes for you to follow, and they have set up a gallery and an area with games for the kids. You can't possibly see everything there is to see and do in one visit.

With each visit you will find new surprises: more artisans in the village or other stalls in the fairs (they change every month). You are more than welcome!
